

“Children are like buds in a garden and should be carefully and lovingly nurtured, as they are future of nation and the citizen of tomorrow”

-Pt Jawahar Lal Nehru

Children’s day (also known as Bal Divas) in India is celebrated every year on 14th of November to increase the awareness of people towards the rights, care and education of children.

Like every year this year also Montfort School, Delhi celebrated Children’s day in style. Children’s day mark the birth anniversary of the first Prime Minister of Independent India Jawaharlal Nehru also called 'Chacha Nehru'. He worked diligently for the well-being of children as well as youngsters after the independence of India. He worked so much for the education, progress and welfare of the children of India. He was very affectionate towards children and became famous as Chacha Nehru among them. For the progress and development of the youth of India, he had established various educational institutions such as Indian Institutes of Technology, All India Institute of Medical Sciences and Indian Institutes of Management.

On the occasion of Children’s day this year the teachers of our Montfort fraternity performed along with the children of LKG – D. On this instance Br. Alex (Respected Principal), Br. Jinu, Sister Merita and all the teachers were present and participated in the cultural programs & other activities with full enthusiasm. Repected Br. Alex addressed the gathering with his encouraging words and tried to make clear everybody the importance of children for a rising nation like India. The event was superbly enchanting and fabulous. We present here glimpses of the program in form of pictures to give you a feel of the same:
